PROFILE

Software developer with two decades of experience and a strong appetite for emerging technologies. I thrive on innovation-driven challenges, and my work is guided by three core actions: leading, developing, and innovating.

I also bring experience in intercultural management and people development. I believe that empowering individuals across diverse backgrounds is a key driver for growing projects and achieving sustainable, high-impact results.

EXPERIENCE

2022 - 2026 // Believe // Engineering Manager

Leading three engineering squads in India for music-industry products, acting as a key bridge between product and tech, managing multicultural teams, and driving upskilling and professional growth.

- Led three engineering squads in India delivering complex products (marketing & financial) for the music industry
- Acted as a key bridge between product and engineering
- Managed and developed multicultural teams through a framework to build a strong and autonomous engineering culture
